Safe Sleep – Recommendation 10

Recommendation Summary: Resource the Office of the Chief Medical Examiner to develop an electronic database to collect information on suspected sleep-related infant deaths.

Primary Public Body: Manitoba Justice

1. Provide funding and/or the resources necessary for the development of an electronic database to collect information on risk factors of sleep-related infant deaths.

Manitoba Justice reported a scoping project underway to develop a new database that is expected to be completed in January 2023. No information or evidence, however, were provided about improvements in progress. Confirmation that resourced work ensures integration of risk factor data collection is needed.

2. For the OCME to develop an electronic database that systematically and consistently collects information on suspected sleep-related infant deaths in Manitoba. Data will be used to report on the incidence of and risk factors associated with sleep-related infant deaths.

The update of the database remains underway. As was the case in 2021, confirmation remains needed on variables to be collected as well as on the OCME's plan to report on the incidence of risk factors associated with sleep-related infant deaths. Confirmation is needed that the variables listed in the report are/will be integrated into the database.

3. For the OCME to partner with MACY in developing the electronic database.

Work in collaboration with MACY in developing the electronic database is anticipated to occur in fall 2022.

3. Rationale for Determination
(How did you reach this compliance determination)

Intent 1: To provide funding and/or the resources necessary for the development of an electronic database to collect information on risk factors of sleep-related infant deaths.

- Manitoba Justice reported a scoping project underway to develop a new database that is expected to be completed in January 2023.
- The department further reported that “Funding and resources have been committed and allocated as the OCME has begun to review their database. Improvements, including the addition of data collection on risk factors of sleep-related infant deaths, and testing will take months.”
- No information or evidence, however, were provided about improvements in progress, including the addition of data collection on risk factors of sleep-related infant deaths, specific funding approvals or investments, or resources dedicated to meeting this intent.
- Confirmation that resourced work ensures integration of risk factor data collection is needed.

- Intent 1 is almost complete based on Manitoba Justice’s report in 2020 that an update of the OCME’s current database is underway and resources have been allocated. Limited information was provided, however, on the current status of the database development and whether updates to the database will include data points that collect information on risk factors.
- In October 2021, Manitoba Justice clarified that it is “close to updating an old build of the database, which is the first necessary step to implement this recommendation.”
- The department also clarified that funding approvals have yet to be sought for the development of a new database.

Intent 2: For the OCME to develop an electronic database that systematically and consistently collects information on suspected sleep-related infant deaths in Manitoba. Data will be used to report on the incidence of risk factors associated with sleep-related infant deaths.

- Manitoba Justice reported that “The OCME has begun to review their database. Improvements, including the addition of data collection on risk factors of sleep-related infant deaths, and testing will take months” and shared that the OCME will connect with MACY as the new/revamped database is developed.
- No information beyond this was provided about the OCME’s review of the database or on how data will be used to report on the incidence of risk factors associated with sleep-related infant deaths. As such, confirmation is needed that the variables listed in the report are integrated into the database.

- The OCME’s database is currently being updated and the OCME is aware of this recommendation and intends to integrate sleep-related death information as part of the data it collects. A review is needed to confirm whether the database updates are in line with what needs to be collected.

- The implementation of this recommendation is largely contingent on the implementation of Safe and Sound recommendation 9: to develop a form that police can use to collect information on what may have contributed to a sleep-related infant death. MACY will also ask Manitoba Justice what information police are currently collecting and providing to the OCME when attending the scene of an infant death.
- Manitoba Justice stated that funding approval for the development of a new database has not occurred yet since an update of the old build of the database needs to be completed first.

Intent 3: For the OCME to partner with MACY in developing the electronic database.

2022

- Work in collaboration with MACY in developing the electronic database is anticipated to occur in late fall/early winter 2022.

2021

- In lieu of 'partnering', Manitoba Justice has suggested that MACY be consulted as the OCME develops/updates their database.
- The process for how communication between the Manitoba Advocate, the OCME, and Manitoba Justice should occur in order to collaborate on this intent is still in development.

Analysis Summary: Work has begun on updating the OCME's database. More detail, however, is required to demonstrate that Intents 1 and 2 are in progress and ensuring risk factor data collection and variable integration into the database. Once evidence is provided of progress on Intents 1 and 2, and work between the OCME and MACY is underway per Intent 3, the department will be partially to largely compliant with the recommendation. For now, it remains limitedly compliant.
